The colours shown are a representation of the finished product, and we cannot guarantee an exact colour match. The Artevia™ colour range detailed is intended to represent floated or formed concretes, produced with standard "grey" cements and cured for a minimum of 3 days. Colour variations can occur as a result of changes in raw materials and finished surface texture. It is advisable to consider trial areas prior to major colour sensitive installations.

All coloured products within the Artevia™ range are warranted to be of uniform quality within normal manufacturing tolerances. As Lafarge has no control on the use and application of these coloured products, no warranty expressed or implied is made. Sellers and manufacturers obligation shall be limited to the material portion proven to be defective.
